HALF A DAY IN MEXICO.
HALF IN SAN DIEGO.
1,000 EYES TOO FEW.
LINDERBERG'S NEW GLIDER.

By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1929 By King Features

IN AGUA CALIENTE, MEXICO,
and just north across the border in San Diego, U. S. A., they show and tell you more interesting things than 1,000 eyes and 1,000 ears could see and hear adequately.

On this new and amazing successful resort, created almost overnight in just south of the United States border, many millions have been spent to create conditions that will compete with anything in Europe.

WHATEVER YOUR IDEAS of hunting and other amusements, with being attached, you find comfort in the fact that this place will keep American money in America. Wide roads, bus and air lines enable the American who feels cramped by prohibition and other restrictions to cast them off in Agua Caliente.

It is not necessary to go to Europe, spending all his income there.

Sixteen miles from San Diego,
one of America's most beautiful cities, the American finds in the Mexican resort everything that he would find at Deauville, Monte Carlo, Nice or any resort in Europe. The place is well managed, well planned, well proportioned. Ask Fuchall Kern, who has just gone by, looking younger than ever.

It is extraordinarily beautiful with a perfect hotel, golf,
all sports, hot sulphur and mud baths, famous in Andes days, and the visitor is in old Mexico, a land as foreign to him and as fascinating as though he were in Spain, yet near to his own land, no ocean to cross.

BELOW AGUA CALIENTE, the peninsula of southern California, property of Mexico, stretches for 1,000 miles. The wealth of that peninsula can not be exaggerated.
Its beauty cannot be described.

High rock walls, going straight down to the ocean, impenetrable sheltered coves, with white sand beaches, great flocks of sheep on the round, green hills, herds of cattle, grazing through the water, close to shore, yield innumerable a wonderful empire.

SPEND SIX HOURS DRIVING
along that Mexican-Pacific shore, and in comparison, the Mediterranean Riviera, with which you have been familiar all your life, is like an indoor golf course compared with the real game.

One hundred and twenty miles by air, southeast of Agua Caliente, is one of the finest hunting grounds in the world.

In less than two hours a plane lands you on the level of a desert, called the Valle Triun-dad. From that desert floor the Saint Peter Martyr mountain rises 11,000 feet. Devel was first to measure its height, as a young engineer.

On that mountain you find one of the world's few remaining natural game preserves.
mountain sheep, mule deer,
other kinds of deer, wild birds
of all kinds, streams full of trout.

IF YOUR MIND CRAVES romance, Mexico will supply it. This is a picturesque people, wondering at our Nordic foolishness, our drinking and our gadding, but courteous, obliging, willing to let us be as foolish as we choose.

Looking at the blue water of the bay of St. Quentin, your imaginations call back the old British ships and captains, pirates, in plain English, lurking there in wait for Spanish treasure vessels, on their way from the Philippines around the Horn.

England no longer licenses pirates
in the name of Queen Elizabeth.
But Britons still reach out for treasure.

On this peninsula is a gigantic iron ore deposit, that could supply steel to duplicate everyone of our skyscrapers, many times over.

Sir Allen Bruce Thomson, who lives at Cardiff, in Wales, is head of British company that owns that.
You ask Sir Allen's son when they will develop that wealth. "Oh no hurry. We get very cheap ore now from Norway. We shall need this Mexican iron later, in 50, or perhaps 100 years."

The second great iron deposit in Mexico is said to be owned by United States Steel. A great iron mountain near Mexico City has not yet been acquired by Nordic energy.
Opportunity there.

Goes Into Business On Stolen Basis

SEMINOLE, OKLA., March 27.—K. C. Hunkins, who by his own admission nursed an ambition to go into business for himself, but lacked the necessary funds, is held in a Semi-nole jail, charged with theft of equipment for an entire gasoline filling station.

A week ago Hunkins installed his station here, and did a thriving business until the law intervened. Chief of Police Jake Sims said the prisoner admitted theft of two pumps, two storage tanks, four oil barrels and other modern equipment.

BRIAND BACK IN LONDON FOR TALK

Senate Would Give Pact Close Observance, Canvas Shows

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Mar. 27.—Naval conference circle today looked for important developments, definitely leading to failure or success of the parity in its broader conception, within the next few days.

The heads of the five delegations had under consideration today fixing of a date for a plenary session some time next week. It was believed that by the time that session takes place the new situation which has arisen as a result of a re-entrance of political considerations into the conference would have resolved itself into something definite from the nebulous status it now has.

Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, was back in London today from Paris. It was agreed generally, for the principle purpose of ascertaining just what new offer Great Britain and the United States are prepared to make in return for reduction of what those two nations have considered as France's too large naval estimates.

BANK LOOTED OF CASH IN HOLDUP, ESCAPE IN AUTO

$7,000 Missing As Men Enter Bank Soon After Opening

(By The Associated Press)
DAYTON, March 27.—Two bandits entering the First National bank at Germantown, about 15 miles southwest of Dayton, shortly after it opened at 8:30 o'clock this morning held up E. C. Obinger, president and D. L. Obinger, his son and cashier, and four bank customers and escaped with approximately $7,000.

Both of the bank officials and Frank Albright, William Buck, T. A. Kierulff and Miss Louise Kern, the bank patron in the place at the time were forced to go into a rear room and lie on the floor, while the bandits scoured up all available cash and currency on the counters, amounting to about $7,000.

Backed from the place, the robbers entered an ice-covered machine, in which a third member of the gang had been seated and drove rapidly away in the direction of Dayton.

Possibility that the bandits who perpetrated the robbery this morning may have been the same who yesterday afternoon were foiled in their efforts to hold up and rob Charles Draper, receiver for the First National bank at West Alexander was expressed by officials today.

The robbers yesterday sheepishly withdrew from the bank and escaped when they were convinced by Draper that there was no money in the bank and had not been open for more than a year.

BULLET WOUND FATAL TO MAN

Officer Slain In Same Fight In Which Alleged Gangster Was Shot; One Held

MIDDLETOWN, March 27.—Bullet wounds which he received in a gun battle 10 days ago when Patrolman Daniel Sandlin, 28, was shot and killed, today had caused the death of William Griffith, 49, New Castle, Indiana, alleged gangster.

Richard Brewer, 38, purported Kentucky run-runner and companion of Griffith, escaped after the shooting but was recaptured later. He was speedily indicted by the grand jury on a first-degree murder charge in connection with the slaying of a patrolman.

The shooting started when the patrolman and a fellow-officer accosted the two men when they were seen emerging from a known "speakeasy" here.

'Good Old-Fashioned Winter'

"Winters are not what they used to be," one old-timer will tell another and then list events that occurred when he was younger and the "good, old-fashioned winters" held sway.

These statements come despite the fact that weather bureau records over a half century indicate that, in 10-year cycles, the winters have averaged a great deal the same.

Weathermen said that those who recall hard winters in old days do so because severe cold snaps and other things attend-

COLUMBIANA CO. HIGHWAY WORK SOON TO START

Well Over $200,000 Will Be Spent In Several Months' Project

SALEM-LISBON ROAD INCLUDED

Valley-Salem Work Will Be Completed This Summer, Claim

The state highway department has announced that $228,449.63 will be spent in new road construction in Columbiana county within the next few months, and that two highways will be resurfaced and one road graded and prepared for surfacing next year.

In addition to these projects, Columbiana county will probably award the contract for the surfacing of the Westville-North Georgetown road soon, and later the contract for the surfacing of the Valley-Salem road. The state highway department is prepared to immediately go forward with its road work in this county.

On these three road projects over 100 men will be employed by the two Steubenville and one Akron concern that have been designated low bidders.

Opening of bids at Columbus on these three roads has also disclosed that low bidders bought the projects for $44,243.28 less than the estimates.

Salem-Lisbon Road

Resurfacing of the three miles of the narrow brick section of the Salem-Lisbon road was bid in by Harry M. Bates of Steubenville at $116,051.22; while the resurfacing of the Valley-Salem road was a section of the Cox Highway was a section of the Hollinger-Davidson of Akron at $61,979.45 or $9,957.95 under the estimate. Bates bid in his project at $23,614.38 under the estimate.

The sole grading project, that on the new Wellsville-Salineville road was bid in by John M. Leach of Steubenville at $50,500 or $10,670.50 under the estimate.

Contractor Herman C. Armstrong of Lisbon who has the contract for grading and drainage structures on the Westville-North Georgetown road will require about two weeks of favorable weather to have that highway in shape for surfacing.

While there has been delay on the grading of the Valley-Salem road, it is still held by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk that the remainder of the highway will be graded in sufficient time to be surfaced this year.

Grading of the Elkton-Signal road is to be resumed as weather is favorable for steady employment of a large force of men.

There were 26 bids submitted to the State Highway Department for the three road projects that are to be started at once.

News Flashes Of Damage In Storm's Path

Ice coated boats plied over Lake Erie. The Steve V., one of the largest oil burning fishing tugs on the Great Lakes, arrived in port at Sandusky, coated with ice after a nine-hour battle in the storm.

The gale blew the craft from her course, and her crew lost their way in the blinding snow. Other fishing boats made port safely before the worst of the storm broke.

Washington Court House

this morning reported all roads in the county except one, blocked the all night efforts of highway crews. Rural schools were ordered closed for the day, because of the drifts.

Chicago schools which were closed yesterday will remain adjourned until Monday. Most highways throughout Illinois, Northern Indiana, Wisconsin and eastern Iowa remained impassable today due to drifts which in some places were piled to a depth of 10 feet.

Chicago's loss in dollars will run into many millions. The army of snow shovellers employed by the street car system alone will require a payroll of $5,000,000.

A Soliloquy Valley traction car was reported stuck in deep snow-drifts at Carroll, five miles north of Lancaster, O. The car, due at Lancaster shortly before 6 a. m., was tied up in the drifts that filled a deep cut near Carroll. The majority of Fairfield county highways were clogged with snow drifts from six to eight feet in.

Fifteen hundred street cars were reported in Chicago, most of them still manned by their crews who have been forced to keep a continuous watch for two days in order to be able to move on in case the way is cleared.

A temporary milk famine loomed today as farmers found it impossible to ship their products into the Chicago metropolitan area. Fresh vegetables and fruits were selling at premium prices.

Caffery was hired to do some cleaning on a farm near here, owned by Charles Budlong. He found the jar containing $2,000 in gold in an old building he was tearing down. The coins are dated 1850 to 1890. Prior to 1892 the farm was owned by a man named Lee who was reputed to be wealthy but whose money was not found when he died.

The money belongs to Caffery unless heirs of Lee show up and prove their right to the property.

DEATH TOLL IN STORM MOUNTS WITH REPORTS

Salem Blanketed by One Of Heaviest Falls Of Winter

BUS CRASHES ON COUNTY HIGHWAY

Traffic Over State Badly Hampered As Drifts Pile Higher

With snow flurries predicted for this section of Ohio tonight and Friday, Salem and vicinity was buried today under one of the heaviest snowfalls of the winter.

Motor traffic on all main highways leading out of the city was badly hampered by the blinding fall of early morning and later by the pavement conditions.

On the California Hollow road an east-bound Detroit-Pittsburgh bus skidded from the highway and ditched. The six passengers aboard were uninjured.

Many other minor mishaps were reported on county roads.

Stiff winds which blew heavy snows into deep drifts in many places also were charged with causing the three deaths. Wilber Jones, 54, of Cincinnati and Richard Sessman, 15, of Cleveland, were asphyxiated in their garages when wind blew doors shut while motors in their automobiles were running last night. Near Woodfield, and driven snow is believed to have blinded the driver of a car which went into a ditch, killing George Eager, 77, of Milan.

Throughout the state belated winter left traces of its untimely invasion, which tied up traffic in the north and central portions and caused dozens of automobile accidents in the south.

Snow eddied before strong winds and carpeted streets in Cleveland and Toledo, while one of the worst blizzards in years lashed at a maximum velocity the 36 miles through the river bottoms at Cincinnati.

Cleveland reported snow accompanied by lightning and thunder, and a drop in the mercury to 26 degrees.

The lowest mark for March 26 in seven years, Columbus shivered and pedestrians plodded through almost an inch of snow.

FEARS FELT FOR MISSION PRIESTS

Location of Catholics In China Not Known As Reports Come In

CANTON, Mar. 27.—The exact whereabouts of 16 American Catholic missionaries, besieged for three weeks at Kanchow, Kiangsi province, by bandits and Communists, was uncertain today.

Belief was expressed they had evacuated Kanchow fearing the city would fall before the bandits who have been raiding, killing and looting throughout the southern part of the province for months.

The belief was based upon a telegram sent to the Rev. Fr. Young, a missionary stationed at Kanchow, saying the Communists and bandits had entered Nanfu, about fifty miles away. Father Young, said he was preparing to leave the city although he did not give his destination.

Contrary to this, however, was an unofficial Chinese dispatch which stated the Communists had been dispersed near Kanchow, thus relieving the situation, meanwhile communication with Kanchow continued fragmentary, bandits have halted telegraphic communication and the actual condition of the missionaries, ten men and six women, was not learned.

The lawless forces, which have looted Kiangsi province for months were reported to have attacked and captured the towns of Sinfent and Taiyi in southern Kiangsi.

LABOR DECLARES ITSELF

Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor and president of the Union Labor Life Insurance Co., is the author of an important and authoritative discussion of American labor's opinion of Communism and the recent red riots arranged ostensibly to protest against unemployment.

Mr. Woll, whose position qualifies him as spokesman for the vast group which he represents, attempts to demonstrate clearly and for all time that labor has a positive attitude against Communism and that it will present as militant a front to the Communists party as that organization is presenting to the Federation.

The first declaration in the article reads:

"Communism's appeal to American workers is in behalf of revolution. The appeal of the American Federation of Labor is in behalf of a democracy that will function with less of injustice—for support of and betterment of our social, industrial and political order. That, I take it, is the aim of every American, though we may not all agree in our diagnosis of the faults, or in our program of remedies. The point upon which we do all agree is that change must come within and through our present institutions."

A telling blow is struck at the familiar quibble concerning responsibility for actions taken by the Soviet government and the Communist International. At the head of both stands the Communist party of Russia. The principle of Communism is a unifying factor and there are no separations of responsibility in the various branches and divisions.

American labor's primary interest, quite naturally, is the promise to labor which the International extends. Vice-President Woll's duty is to disabuse members' minds of any false conceptions and this he does without mincing words. He says:

"Not a single job was created by the demonstration, except possibly for bailiffs and other caretakers in prison corridors. But let me say this seriously and as a truth which we would do well to ponder: If an armed force had been landed on our shores for the same purpose, it would have been war."

The resort which an agitator would make to this denial of result would be that the sentiment created against capitalism was worth the effort. That, too, is a minus quantity when evaluated. Revolution, destruction, overthrow of democracy in favor of a new social order to be established willy-nilly and maintained by minority rule—fine sentiment for an American citizen or an alien taking advantage of American opportunities.

Other interesting comparisons are pointed out in Mr. Woll's article. Communism takes for granted a static proletarian class and insists that it must never be otherwise. Communist philosophy makes necessary admission by the individual that he is an immovable item in a fixed total. Communism stands for the supremacy of the state under the control of a political faith, for which no challenge is permissible. When the American Communist party, to use Mr. Woll's expression, bows to the will of the Communist International and says its deeds are not those of the Soviet government, it tells a half truth for all are in the Communist party of Russia.

It is supremely important that there interested in the relation of Communism to their country understand it clearly. Mr. Woll's description may be colored somewhat by his intense interest in labor, but since it is the laboring man to whom Communism makes its appeal an equal balance is maintained. The Red slogan, "First Get the American Federation of Labor," demands hard, accurate and even vindictive retaliation.

George Djannareff, a press agent, has used Gamma Wollaks for $187,500 for professional services he claims to have rendered her. We can not recall ever having heard of any box office returns for Gamma's shows which indicated press services of that value.

What Others SayMURRAH FOR NEW HAMPSHIRE

Let the people of all the states pause to hear a story, unusual and interesting. The legislature of New Hampshire, called in special session by the governor, faced a flood of proposed new laws, listened to all that was said, defeated each of the proposed measures and adjourned without inflicting a single new law on the people of the state.

It could happen in any state. It may have happened in some state, but not often. There is a mania for new legislation in evidence all over the country. Ohio has had it in evidence and has books filled with new statutes, new crimes, new restrictions, new customs, new burdens, and may have more of that experience when the next session arrives. For every complaint made by individual or community, some one hurries in with a new law. The disposition is to give all possible attention to results, with little study of causes that might be cured.

In New Hampshire members were determined. Even a franchise tax on gas and electric utilities, an idea that had been presented to the people of the state during recent years and was thought to be popular, was defeated, although it would have brought important income. The personal income tax was buried under adverse votes.

Assembled by formal call from the governor to consider matters of legislation the legislature declined to legislate, not a single statute being enacted. The lawmakers held fast to the idea that the state had an abundance of laws for private and public safety. It was a glorious example. Other states might study it with advantage to the public.—Ohio State Journal.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Sleep is life-giving. It is essential to our very existence. When it is disturbed and broken we are reduced to poor creatures. Many there are who suffer from the evil effects of sleeplessness and would give much for quiet sleep.

During sleep every muscle is at rest, the nerves are at rest, and the brain is at rest.

The heart and lungs keep on working, but the digestion is on part-time work.

Sleep is perhaps more necessary than food, at least one can go longer without food than without sleep. As we sleep we collect energy for another day.

Without sleep the nervous system breaks down. Insomnia or loss of sleep is a serious matter, especially if it becomes a habit.

Speaking of habit, the way we sleep is somewhat a matter of habit. You have noticed that if you lose sleep for two or three nights, or go to bed very late, you are likely to take on the habit of being sleepless.

There are many causes for the condition known as insomnia. A constitutional trouble, some injury or sickness may bring with it this uncomfortable and depressing symptom.

Improper diet, with constipation, is perhaps the outstanding cause in a majority of cases. Persons in this body from time immemorial have tried the various systems. Sleeplessness is the result.

Drinking coffee at night will cause insomnia in a nervous person. So will excessive smoking or the taking of certain drugs.

One of you may resort to the taking of drugs for insomnia. Too many lives have been ruined in this way. Sleeping pills, sleeping poisons, sleeping drops are all dangerous. They lead to drug addiction and conditions worse than insomnia. They should not be self-prescribed certainly. This is your doctor's job.

Try taking a tepid bath. This is a good thing before retiring. It causes your nerves to relax. The circulation is drawn to the extremities. Sleep is likely to follow.

Many persons find a glass of warm milk beneficial before going to bed. A real meal is harmful, but something light taken into the stomach before bedtime may help you to sleep.

Sleeping in the fresh air is good for sleeplessness. Have the windows wide open. Given a comfortable bed and plenty of warm covering in cold weather this is conducive of good sleep.

Taking a brisk walk before bedtime, with deep breathing, is a splendid tonic. Walk until you are physically tired. A physically tired person is the best sleeper.

Worry is probably one of the most common causes of sleeplessness. Once you get this bad habit you are likely to fare very badly for sleep. Why worry? If never did any good. Learn to banish thoughts of business and other cares when you leave the day's work. Here is a place where mind may serve you if you but try. Just try it and see how much brighter things will look tomorrow!

If you feel that you have anything seriously the matter, if you are not feeling fit physically, you should see a physician, and find out the cause. Insomnia is likely to be a symptom of some trouble that needs correction.

OUR READERS

AGREES—DISAGREES

Editor The News:

What they are doing in our state capitals concerns especially the rank and file. Would any one dare to assert that this is a Democratic nation, if the doing in our federal and state capitals did not concern us, "the rank and file"?

However, I heartily agree with Mr. Rummel's three points; they are true to the mark. I might, however, add another. When a dry speaks of temperance, he is speaking of intemperance. Temperance in drinking, is the medium between total abstinence and complete indulgence in intoxicating liquors.

I will quote a passage from the article of "L. S."

"Whoso puts liquor into their system, casts discretion, judgment, self-control and righteousness to the four winds."

I do not make the mistake of saying that liquor ever did any particular good. I would, however, strongly refute the inference that all progress in civilization made in the past ages was made by men who had "cast discretion, judgment, self-control and righteousness to the four winds."

The ardent dries will search the Bible in vain to find a passage which says, "Dry, drink." The Bible says, "Temperance." Does anyone dare deny that the present conditions are very temperate?

Let the present fanatical law be modified and, as I have stated before, instead of having intemperance, injustice, and an enormous expense, we will have temperance, justice and a profitable business whose profits will help to fight illiteracy, or perhaps help to keep "dry" the people of the flood-cricken Mississippi valley.

ANENT GUILFORD DAM

Editor The News:

Again we were told the other day by some one who is likely to know, that word had been received from Columbus, Indiana, that it is the state's intention to go forward and complete the work at the Guilford dam this coming summer. Let us hope his to be true, which it is likely to be, considering that this is a state election year. We remember the Guilford dam and the bank itself were also built in such a year. However, the prospect seems to be good. A number of people have been down at Guilford the last two Sundays for a look at the lake. The water is going down slowly, and there is plenty of it yet. Without rain it will take at least three more weeks to drain all out.

If the state does complete this work this year, we should have a wonderful lake in about a year from now.

We have found it does not take two or three years for the reservoir to fill, like some people thought and said. Give it six months and the water will run over the spillway.

When the bank is built and the lake is formed, then it will be time to talk about the park part. The state had the chance to get land for this purpose for two years, but let it slip, and I do not know what the chances would be at present to get it again. However, we are more interested in the lake than in the park, and if Gabriel is not in too big a hurry to blow the horn, why the younger present day generation, may even live to see the park a reality.

But let us not expect too much at one time. There seems to be only two speeds on this job. This one is slow, and the next one may be still slower, but in time it will come. It will be fine duck hunting. Hundreds of ducks are flying over the lake now days and at the edge of the water there are hundreds of small turtles. May be, some party likes soup.

Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

Jacob I. Greene of Tiffin, O., writing to the American Pioneer in 1842, stated that the name of the city of Sandusky, O., is Polish in origin, and not either Indian or French, as has been variously argued. He stated that a hundred years before the time at which he wrote the French were extending their trading posts along the shores of the lakes and establishing bold adventurous fellows in charge of them. Under the auspices a Polish trader established himself on the bay now called Sandusky and near the mouth of the Sandusky river.

Neither the river nor the bay had yet been given a name, nor were they named for some years afterward, when the Polish trader's post was the best known place in the vicinity. It was natural, therefore, that the makers of the first crude maps of the south shore of Lake Erie, should mark the bay with his name, "Sanduski's Bay," and so it was, for the trader spelled his name with a final i and not a y, as it is now spelled.

Sanduski confirmed his trading operations to the bay and river and thus his name became permanently connected with the two waters. In his later years he chanced to fall into a dispute with the Indians—a fatal thing for a trader to do, and was obliged to leave the country. The Indians some time later traced him to Virginia and there killed him.

Greene stated that as far as he had been able to ascertain, there were but two persons bearing that family name then in the western country, and both were nephews of the Polish trader. One was living at that time in Kentucky and the other near Danville, Vermillion county, Ill. It was from the latter that Greene secured his information. However, it was then, there are many bearing the name of Sanduski in the country.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Acquiring a taste for mussels while living abroad is a curious experience for the American traveler. In Europe mussels are eaten extensively and even preferred to other shellfish. Yet here, where mussels grow as abundantly as clams and oysters, comparatively few are used, and many lovers of shellfish have never even tasted them. Why, nobody knows.

Because there are many things to be said in favor of mussels. For one thing, they are in season when oysters are out—from December to July. There is more edible meat in mussels than in either oysters or clams. The only part that cannot be eaten is a little tuft of black hairs which is pulled off after cooking. Unlike clams which may be tough after cooking mussels are always tender.

After purchasing them, mussels should be kept in a cool, dark place, and covered with a wet cloth. Of course, they should be alive, and the test is to squeeze the shell—if it does not stay shut when squeezed, throw away that mussel.

The simplest way to prepare mussels is to steam them. Throw the mussels into a large bucket of cold water and wash. Lift out the mussels—do not pour off the water as this will only sift the sand back on them again. Place the washed mussels in a large saucepan and add only 1 cup of water so as to prevent the pan from scorching. Boil about 10 or 15 minutes—until all the mussels are opened. Serve the mussels on the shell hot, just as one does steamed clams, accompanied by a sauce of melted butter and lemon juice mixed together. Each person removes the mussel from the shell for himself, the only part to discard being the little tuft of beard on the inside.

The liquid left in the saucepan should be strained to remove all sand, reheated for a moment, and served in bouillon cups. It is just as delicious as clam juice, if not more so.

Mussel Chowder
3 dozen mussels
2 onions
2 green peppers
2 tomatoes
2 large potatoes
1 thick slice salt pork.

While the mussels are heating, fry the pork in a large saucepan, then add the sliced peppers, onions and when light brown, add the tomatoes, peeled and cut, and the potatoes cut into cubes. Add the liquid in which the mussels have been cooked, strained from the sand when the potatoes are tender. The mussels may be added. They must first be removed from the shell, the beard trimmed off, and cut in half. Heat, and serve with pilot crackers. If the mussels do not yield enough liquid, water should be added.)

STYLE EDICTS

PARIS, Mar. 27.—The Reds seem to have gained ground in Paris-fashion centers this season, with all shades of the Communist color fascinating many women who can wear them.

Maggie Rouff is making a beautiful and dignified evening gown in red crepe, with two panels in the back prolonged by a short train. She calls it "Laquer." Chantal uses Pompadour-red chiffon with a waistline that is merely hinted at by draping and a skirt that is longer in back than in front. The coat worn with it has long, loose sleeves and shades from light to deep violet. The length of it is interestingly long, almost reaching to the hem of the skirt.

Crepe lris comes in vivid red for a frock with a scarfed bolero and slashed hip drapery. Both jacket and sleeves are richly embroidered by hand in bright gold spangles in dotted design.

Closely allied with these reds comes the new pastel pink which is being much favored for evening with its soft shading and occasional flashes of opal tint. Lady Louis Mountbatten who was seen in Paris recently before sailing for America, chose it for several of her new gowns. One was pink chiffon that reached the ground and formed a little train at the back. There was slightly tightened draping at the knees.

Loella Pensonby who has now become the Duchess of Westminster, also selected a Victoire tea creation in pinkish apricot chiffon with inscriptions of fine lace dyed to the exact tone.

A taffeta dancing dress which has the smart harnessed decollete and flaring skirt of circular ruffles comes in a luscious shade of pink particularly becoming to blondes or brunettes.

MOVIES

"NAVY BLUES"

Kelly, a tough job aboard a destroyer, is off duty with others on shore leave in "Navy Blues" now at the State theater. A petty officer orders the group to attend a local Y. W. C. A. social, much to their disgust.

Kelly is comforted, however, when he meets Alice, a pretty girl, at the social, and proceeds to make love to her. She takes a fancy to him, and a courtship starts, enlivened by a rivalry between himself and "Eve Swanson," a big sailor on the boat who eventually becomes his "pal."

Alice's mother hates sailors because her father was one, and when Kelly takes Alice home, she orders him from the house. Alice says she'll go too, as they leave, Kelly settles her in a rooming house, and in the morning reports to his ship, to find that a long cruise has been ordered.

He rushes back to find Alice, but she, thinking he has deserted her, has disappeared.

The cruise follows, Kelly disconsolate.

Then they return to port, and Kelly searches for the girl. Her parents think her married to him and happy, so he does not disillusion them. Finally he locates her working in a tough cabaret. He calls on "Eve" to aid him, and after a vivid battle they rescue the girl from the place.

The dramatic denouement of the story sees them happy again and forgiven by the heroine's parents, so all's well that ends well.

"TIGER ROSE"

Even though California has the most varied scenery of almost any place in the world, it took three locations, 400 miles apart, to duplicate the wild ruggedness of the Hudson Bay country needed for scenes of "Tiger Rose," the Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture at the Grand tonight.

and rugged cliffs were to be found near Yosemite Valley. For the factor's post and placed water scenes, it was necessary to go to Arrowhead and Big Bear, in the southern part of the state, while for the rushing rapids through which Lupe Velez and Grant Withers escape in a canoe, Director George Fitzmaurice had to take his company to the wilds of the American river, in the high Sierras, a tributary to the mighty Sacramento river. Here, in the country made famous by the gold rush, the dangerous canoe scenes were filmed with vivid reality.

All together, however, the landscapes make a magnificent composite picture of the forests, rushing streams, and mountains of the Hudson Bay region, where the story is laid.

Monte Blue and Lupe Velez are co-starred and other prominent members of the supporting cast include H. B. Warner, Gaston Glass, Bull Montana, Tully Marshall and Rin-Tin-Tin.

True dyes are easiest to use!

Dresses, drapes or lingerie look new when they're re-dyed with Diamond Dyes. No spotting or streaking, never a trace of that re-dyed look. Just rich, even, bright colors that hold amazingly through wear and washing.

Diamond Dyes are the highest quality dyes you can buy because they're so rich in pure anilines. That's what makes them so easy to use. That's what they've been famous for 50 years. 15 cent packages—all drug stores.

Konjola Ended Rheumatism and Dread Neuritis

New Medicine Banishes These Painful Ailments And Wins Praise Of Youngstown Lady.

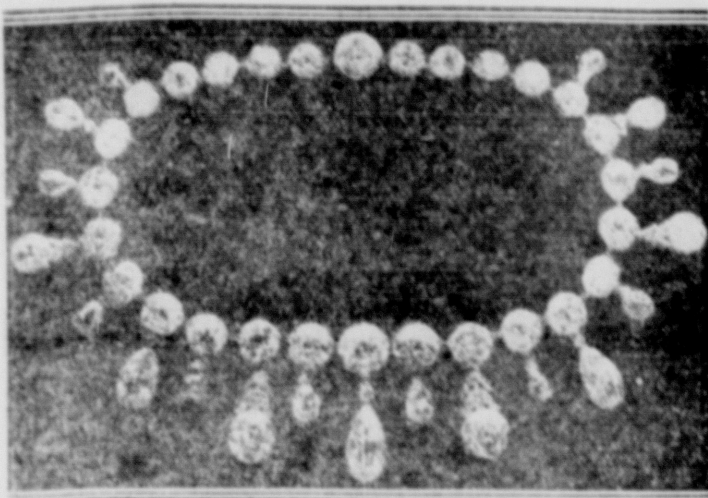

MRS. A. RICHARDS

"For more than a year I suffered the awful tortures of rheumatism and neuritis," said Mrs. A. Richards, 811 Marshall street, Youngstown. "The pains from these attacks settled in my joints and muscles. Those who have suffered from them all know what I went through. There were days at a time when it was impossible for me to walk. My nerves and stomach became weak and my general health badly run down."

"I required but four bottles of Konjola to literally create a new life for me. Today I have no sign of these painful ailments. I am suffering through which I feel like a new person. My nerves are now steady and strong and my stomach has again become normal. I have gained in weight, strength and energy and am in better health than I was before I became ill. I can never say enough for Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Salem at all H. Lease drug stores, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

NECKLACE DEAL QUESTIONED

Associated Press Photo

Archduke Leopold of Austria was subpoenaed by New York authorities for questioning regarding the sale to a New York dealer of a diamond necklace originally made for Napoleon's Empress Marie Louise. The necklace which sold for $60,000 was valued at $400,000 by its owner, the Archduchess Marie Theresa of Austria. Investigation was brought about by Mrs. Anna Eisenmenger (left), who claims to be the legal representative of the archduchess.

AKRON TESTING BOOTLEG BOOZE

Believe Many Cases of Paralysis Followed Drinking of Rum Made in City

AKRON, O., March 27.—Liquor, believed responsible for 25 cases of paralysis in Cambridge, is to be tested for poison under direction of Akron authorities said the paralysis cases were due to drinking poison liquor obtained from bootleggers who admitted bringing it from Akron.

Captured rum runners also admitted distributing their liquor in southeastern Ohio and northwestern West Virginia and it was considered possible that more than 100 cases of paralysis in and near Cincinnati might have followed its consumption. Previously the southeastern Ohio paralysis cases have been attributed to drinking of Jamaica ginger.

Der Ling
Der Ling was chief lady-ing to that famous old em-China, known to the
in Old Buddha, or Emperor K. Ten Hei. The book is writ-narrative form and is the ry of this famous emperor, of the world called cruel.
Der Ling has tried to give prejudiced portrayal of the
he was both kind and just, misunderstood and at times
foul.
All know the historical facts
Baker rebellion and the tor-procures that were committed, a man known as the under-
of that terrible rebellion of Old Buddha's hand
the cry of "all" but not unheard the cry did she realize a temple she had brought reason for she was forced to beautifully told story of a tendency to glory and from the time when she was in a late Chinese garden and for Yung Li, a Mandarin man, was a very real thing to the time when she died alone.

Her Return
Susan Glaspell
Why it's the unusual that our attention and this book
her Return" by Susan Glaspell that very thing. On the age of the book, you meet H-rauder, who is very calm through her usual morning preparing to end her life as those duties have been performed. But Fate intervenes, fortunately for the story.
Suddenly Irma finds herself alone, reversed, almost abandoned by the good people in the village of Delphi. Her past life forever and peace and solace
as an open road before her,
so much solitude brings reflection and reflection is apt to revive her.
In this land of ruins and a civilization, a greater understanding of life comes to Irma. She can apostle to this new love shown in the old ruins of Delphi.
A book deep in emotion,
illumination and Miss Glaspell is very capable of handling this situation.

Ashes Will Be Buried In Cemetery; Not With
Bigamous Bride
VIENNA, March 27.—Unheeding cabled messages from his deserted wife in Cleveland, Ohio, to observe his wish that his ashes be mingled with those of Mrs. Mary MacGranahan, the woman with whom he died in a suicide pact, Dr. Ernest Watzl's relatives arranged today for his burial in Neustift cemetery.
Mrs. MacGranahan's body was being held today for positive identification, upon orders received by the police from the husband she left in Cleveland to elope and become the bigamous wife of Watzl.
A friend of Mr. MacGranahan was supposed to come yesterday to identify the body, but did not appear.
The bodies will be cremated tomorrow, but instead of the ashes being mingled and strewn over the Viennese forest, as Watzl had willed, his will be taken to Neustift, and those of Mrs. MacGranahan held at the crematorium until directions for their disposition have been received from her lawful husband.
Although the rules of the Catholic church refuse the death rites to those who have taken their own lives, an old priest came today to give the last blessing to these two who had loved ardently but failed to find happiness.

THE WORDS on the back of the package still mean what they say. No "extras," which do not contribute to the quality of the smoke, are included in the price of Camels. Just the utmost smoke-enjoyment that modern science can put into a cigarette.

That statement was on the first package of Camels manufactured and has been on every one of the billions of Camel packages sold from that day to this. When it was first written, other cigarette manufacturers were giving away flags, pictures of actresses, pictures of ball players—almost anything that would make the smoker think he was getting something extra for his money. The makers of Camels believed the smoker wanted a cigarette sold strictly on its merits, with all of its cost put into quality—a cigarette made of such excellent tobaccos—so perfectly blended—so mellow—so fragrant—that it would win its own way.

The vast popularity of Camels is a tribute to that four-square policy.

Weather Outlook

The great low-pressure area centered yesterday morning over the lower lake region is moving slowly down the St. Lawrence valley and following it is a crescent-shaped high pressure area one point of which is over Florida and the other over Manitoba. These two areas dominate practically the entire field of observation, the first mentioned causing unsettled weather with general precipitation, mostly snow, over the northeast and the latter area moderately cold weather over southern and central sections with rains in the west gulf states and snows in the Rocky Mountain states from Montana to New Mexico, including the Texas panhandle. Killing frosts occurred this morning in Oklahoma and northwestern Arkansas. West of the Rockies the weather is most fair and along the coast rather warm.

The eastward drift of the pressure areas during the next 24 hours will be favorable to continued cold weather with more or less cloudiness in Ohio tonight and Friday, possibly with snow flurries tonight in the northeast portion.

Football Star Falls Before Attack Of Italian Battler

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, March 27.—Pietro Carnera, giant Italian carpenter today boasted 12 knockouts in as many appearances in American boxing rings, the result of a 54 second victory, here last night over George Trafton, erstwhile Chicago football professional.

The heavyweight match, scheduled for 10 rounds, ended after Trafton fell to the canvas for the third time.

Trafton rushed at the towering Italian at the opening bell and after a mild embrace he fell to the floor on his stomach. At the count of six he arose and again charged across the canvas. Carnera's big hand swung and again Trafton fell. The foreigner walked to his corner, placed his hands on the ropes, and gazed at the crowd. Trafton climbed to his feet at the count of nine, hurried across the ring, and clouted his giant opponent in the back.

Carnera then turned quickly and the Chicagoan fell for the count beneath a flurry of rights and lefts. A short right hand jab to the chin ended the fight.

The Italian weighed 271 pounds, his opponent 229.

DOINGS DOWN SOUTH

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA., March 27.—Headed by the mighty Babe Ruth the New York Yankees today were on their way north. They will play exhibitions in Jacksonville, Mobile and Tennessee and Texas cities.

Before the departure northward, Manager Shawkey announced release of Ivy Andrews, right hand huffer to the Oakland club of the Coast league.

TAMPA, FLA., March 27.—Manager Wilbert Robinson did not have anything to say today about signing Lee Meadows, former Pittsburgh player, as a regular Robin. Making his first appearance in a Brooklyn uniform yesterday Meadows was touched by Detroit batsmen for four hits after Vance allowed three hits and five walks in the first two frames. Detroit won 7 to 3.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., March 27.—It was home run day for the Chicago Cubs yesterday and the National League champions scored four of them to win from the Los Angeles club by a 17 to 12 score. The bats of Cuyler and Stephenson rattled off the home runs.

Today the Cubs open a four game series with the Pirates.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, March 27.—The Chicago White Sox broke spring training camp here today to start their journey northward. Waco will be the first stop.

In a game shortened by the weather yesterday the New York Giants defeated the Chicago squad 9 to 3. The score was tied at the fourth.

REDS WORK SUNDAY
ORLANDO, FLA., March 27.—For the first time in the eight years the Cincinnati Reds have trained here there will be a practice session on Tinker field Sunday. Local authorities objected previously. It will be the last full day at camp and Manager Howley does not plan to allow it to slip by in idleness. The Red Legs will journey to Lakeland tomorrow for a return engagement with the Columbus Senators.

CUB PITCHING WEAK
LOS ANGELES, March 27.—The hitting of Chicago's National League champion Cubs appears to be up to par, but the pitching especially by recruits, has not satisfied Manager Joe McCarthy. The Cubs take on Pittsburgh today for their first big league competition.

NEW ORLEANS, March 27.—Only Earl Averill of the Cleveland Indians has been hitting up to expectations in exhibition skirmishes, but Manager Roger Peckinpaugh declines to be worried. Offsetting weaknesses at the plate, however, has been some unusually good hurling for this stage of the season.
